McADOO REVOKES ORDER.

Ban on Information Regarding Outbound Cargoes No Longer Holds. Secretary McAdoo has revoked his order of last October prohibiting collectors of customs from giving out information concerning the character or formation concerning the character or destination of cargoes outbound from ports of the United States.

The Secretary said that many complaints have been received from exporters against the order and that the reason for its existence had passed. The original order was understood to have been displeasing to diplomatic representatives of Great Britain because it was thought to add to the difficulties of ascertaining whether cargoes contained contraband articles.

Hungary prohibits the use of color-ing extracts in beer and the importa-tion of adulterated or artificially col-ored beer.
